CLUB PRESIDENTS SLATE SECOND MEET

Social Commissioner Announces Dance Plans

STUDENTS OF TWO JAYCEES ARE INVITED

Santa Ana Will Compliment Fullerton In Andrews Gym November 26

Neighboring College Host To Dons Last Year

With one of the best dances on the Santa Ana junior college social calendar scheduled for Thanksgiving night in Andrews gymnasium, when Santa Ana will be host to Fullerton following their traditional football battle in the afternoon, Miss Marjorie Arundell, social commissioner, states that next week will be filled to the brim with special activities.

Because of the successful dance staged by Fullerton last year, no effort is being spared by Miss Arundell to make this affair one of the brightest lights of the college social season. An elaborately decorated gymnasium and a crowd punctuated with balloons, brightly colored caps, prizes galore, and snappy music will feature the evening's entertainment, and regardless of victory or defeat in the grid contest of the day, intercollegiate rivalry will be put aside when the two institutions meet in the common interest of a general good time.

Social clubs and service societies have pledged their support one hundred per cent toward the undertaking. Miss Arundell plans to keep a strict football motif for the evening's entertainment, which will include get-together stunts and a grand march.

Fifteen Receive Bachelor Ritual At Regular Meet

Fifteen Bachelors pledged were given the final vows of Bachelorhood at the home of Herman Hoch near Anaheim Monday night.

The initiation came as a climax to an eight week pledge period.

The new members of the Brotherhood are Lewis Bates, Larry Rossiter, Gordon Minder and Harold Bentson, Sophomores and Bill Friend, Hideo Higashi, Gene Hall, Harry Molmes, Henry Thiery, George Berry, Jack Hellen, Duncan Harnois, Jack Wilson, Garth Olsen and Bill Campbell freshmen.

There were seven former members of the Brotherhood present who helped administer the final vows. Warren Schutz, John Dunlap, and Tom Cone came down from Los Angeles to welcome the new members. Franklin Van Meter, Dale Fuller, Herman Hoch, and Kiyoshi Higashi also took an active part in the initiation.

At a short business meeting immediately following the initiation, a Bachelor pin was selected from some samples which the committee presented for approval.

Plan Pep Assembly Here Next Tuesday

Pep and novelty are guaranteed to fill next week's assembly bill, November 24. New and different entertainment is promised, according to Lewis Bates, commissioner of forensics and general assembly chairman.

Arrangements have not been completed. Students are urged to watch El Diario, daily bulletin, for further announcements. Attendance at past assemblies has far from good, and it is hoped that students will turn out in larger numbers, Bates said.

Dr. Regina Westcott Will Speak At Y. M.-Y. W. Dinner

Dr. Regina Westcott, an authority on human problems, will be the speaker at a joint dinner meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. meeting Monday night at 6:00 p. m. in the Y. W. building.

Members of the Y. W. are giving the banquet in return for a joint meeting which the Y. M. C. A. sponsored a few weeks ago.

All men of the Y. M. C. A. are cordially invited. A good program has been arranged for the evening. The speaker will have many interesting problems to discuss, "Y" officials say.

Jaycee Spinster Club Entertains At Balboa Beach

Treasure hunting and dancing at the Balboa Yacht club was the program of the Sisterhood of Spinster party held Saturday night.

The race extended over most of Orange county. Miss Nelle Grafton, Miss Betty Wiswall, George Griffith and Jim Privett were in the winning car. The treasure was a box of chocolates.

Dancing, boating, and card playing at the Yacht club followed the treasure hunt. At a late hour refreshments of chocolate sundae, cake and coffee were served.

Chaperones of the party were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Sundquist, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Livenspire, Dr. and Mrs. R. Coulson, W. F. Croddy, and Miss Maurine Mathis.

The Spinsters and their escorts who attended were the Misses Nelle Grafton, Bernice Kellar, Dora Tedford, Barbara Rurup, Frances Bowman Sara Grace Frampton, Marjorie Arundell, Betty Wiswall, Beth Collar, Ada Marie Hendrickson, Margaret Wilson, La Trelle Dehner, Marjorie Adams, Kay Howell, and Aileen Adams; and the Messrs. George Griffith, Truscott Lindsey, Raymond Todd, George Blewitt, Don Harrison, Don Smith, Harold Berry, Jim Privett, Jimmy Hatchcock, Dick Davison, Bill Beeman, Bill Crawford, Willard Sisson, and Leslie McDonald.

Associated Women Will Sponsor Tea Friday Afternoon

Tea and a varied program will open the first of a series of social functions for members of the Associated Women Students Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 p. m. in the Y-hut.

All women students are invited to the affair which has been planned and arranged by the cabinet and advisory board of the organization.

Chairmen are Carolyn Mueller and Althea Lambke, refreshments; Adahruith Ellis and Marion Parsons, decorations; Velma Bishop, program; Lois Reed, publicity; and Mina Everett, clean-up committee.

Fisk Organizes New Class For Don Y. M.

For the next six or eight weeks, Dean McKee Fisk will hold a new class, organized especially for Y. M. C. A. cabinet members. The class will be opened Thursday, November 19, and will be held each Thursday afternoon directly after the regular "Y" discussion class.

While the class has been organized for the "Y" cabinet, any student who wishes to attend the class may do so. The class will cover the history and fundamentals of the Y. M. C. A.

JUNIOR LIONS START WORK ON COLLEGE BONFIRE RALLY

Club Appoints Don Smith Head of Committee To Plan For Gathering Of Timber For Celebration

Watch it burn! Repeating their 1930 presentation, the Junior Lions, men's service organization, have outlined plans for a second gigantic football bonfire rally for the Santa Ana-Fullerton game here Thanksgiving Day.

More than 1,000 students and townspeople thronged to last year's celebration, when an eight-room house filled with miscellaneous timber burst into flames. The structure, which was located just in back of the old sugar factory in the south part of town, was donated by Homer Chaney, president of the Senior Lions. This year, of course, the two-story house will not be available, but Mr. Chaney has given the Junior Lions permission to use the same grounds, according to Jim Thompson, Cub president.

The Lions in 1930 began carrying boxes, trash, etc. to the rally one week ahead of time, and the two-story house was a solid mass of burning material the night preceding the annual football game between Santa Ana and Fullerton. The house was guarded every night by the men's service club, the members dividing into two crews, one sleeping while the other worked until 1:30 a. m. The other shift worked from 1:30 a. m. to 6:00 a. m. Between the hours of 6 and 8 a. m., club members recuperated; prepared for their daily classes.

Meeting at Ketner's cafe Monday evening, the Lions turned the majority of their business over to discussing the rally scheduled for next Wednesday, November 25. Committees were appointed and working plans outlined. Don Smith was chosen head of the bonfire committee and will be assisted by Bert Wilkins and Bob MacFarlane.

Immediately upon being appointed, Smith told club members what was expected of them, and announced that work on the bonfire would begin Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. The Lions will take turns at working Sunday, Monday, Tues-

College Faculty Establishes Student Welfare Relief Fund

Members of the Santa Ana high school and junior college faculty unanimously voted at a meeting last week to give one percent of their monthly pay-checks to form a relief fund for welfare of needy high school and junior college students and their families. This fund is in addition to the faculty's usual donation to the Community Chest and other charitable organizations.

Mrs. John Tessmann, chairman of the committee on unemployment relief, read the following recommendations for the teachers:

1—That teachers of the Santa Ana high school and junior college establish in addition to the usual donations to the Community Chest and other charitable organizations a relief fund for the welfare of needy high school and junior college students and their families.

2—That one per cent of their monthly pay-check be given, beginning this month, November, and continuing until the faculty deem it no longer necessary.

3—That three per cent shall be considered if the fund is inadequate.

4—That the fund be administered by a distribution committee of high school and junior college teachers to be appointed by the principal.

5—That the distribution committee shall report its receipts and expenditures to the faculty each month at the meetings, withholding the names of the recipients.

6—That distribution committee arrange a commissary department where supplies of food and clothing may be collected and distributed.

The committee, further recommends that the faculties of the high school and junior college request the City Teachers' League to donate from funds now on hand the sum of $100 to some organized charitable institution of the town, such as the Salvation Army.

These recommendations were unanimously voted upon by the faculty, and will go into effect immediately.

"One per cent of the monthly pay-checks of the faculty will amount to $212," stated Mrs. Tessmann.

French Instructor Edits Jaycee Book

French classes are honored by being the first students to use a genuine all inter-collegiate book, "The French Verbs", written by Miss Lella Watson and printed by the Santa Ana junior college print shop.

Having realized the need of a book which furnished drill in the use of both regular and irregular verbs, Miss Watson began compiling material for her book some time ago. Willard Francis, college linotype operator, spent the latter part of the summer setting up type. Necessitating special characters, the set-up of the type was delayed until about the middle of August. After careful proof reading, the copy was cut into pages and arranged for printing by Jack Henry Reed.

Allowing for the fact that neither Mr. Francis nor Mr. Reed could understand French, one realizes the admirable quality of the book, which contains few typographical errors. In fact, it ranks high with text books, according to T. E. Williams, head of the printing department.

About 100 copies are being distributed to French students.

Phillips Appoints Three Drama Heads

For the first time in the history of the college Ernest Crozier Phillips, drama instructor, has three student assistant directors. The students, Marjorie Arundell, Mitchell Hookins, and Dean Wright, have had previous drama experience under Mr. Phillips in the Santa Ana junior college.

The assistant directors choose their own casts and direct their own one-act plays. Mr. Phillips gives his help and creative suggestions, and is in indirect charge of all plays. It is a successful way of having the unusually large class all working on a play at all times, he says. As well, it gives the directing students a chance to develop talent as directors.

College Dramatists Give Assembly Play

"The Woman Who Understood Men", a play given by the drama class under the direction of Ernest Crozier Phillips, instructor, featured yesterday's assembly. The production was one of the latest comedies copyrighted by Samuel French, distinguished playwright.

English Instructor Of College Tells Of Oxford

Speaking before the Orange County Modern Language Association Monday afternoon in the new Willard auditorium, Miss Agness Todd Miller, English instructor at Santa Ana junior college, told of her experiences at Oxford University this summer.

Miss Miller has spent considerable time in study and research work at Oxford. Her talk centered around impressions which she received of European life, with England's "Oxford" serving as her general topic.

Miss Sears Host To Meninas Club At Irvine Ranch

Meeting at the home of Miss Demaris Sears at Irvine Monday evening, Las Meninas, women's service club, convened to discuss several important business issues.

Plans for the coming Christmas season were formulated in conjunction with those of the other college service clubs, and it was decided that the club would carry out an independent project if caring for less fortunate individuals. Prospects for a tea to be held in Tustin soon were discussed and the date set.

At a late hour a buffet supper was served by the hostess, Miss Sears, and the meeting was adjourned, following a short period of informal dancing. Those present included Miss Genevieve Humiston, adviser; and the Misses Neva McDonald, Lorna Allen, Hazel Hushman, Agnes McKinstry, Helen Bower, Clare Hymer, Ruth Collins, Katherine Harwood, Eugenia Gire, Esther Romoff, Miriam Samuelson, and Demaris Sears.

Jack Green Leads Book Review Club Saturday Evening

"Morals of Tomorrow" by Sockman, was reviewed by Jack Green Saturday evening at the home of Edward M. Nealley, psychology instructor, in Tustin.

According to the author, "Modern woman has changed from the clinging vine type and has swung to the extreme of desert cactus."

Theodore Dreiser's "Philosophy of Life" will be discussed next week by Joe Koons.

Present at the meeting were the Misses May Hasenjaeger, Carolyn Houghton, Eleanor Ryan, Adahruith Ellis, Joanna Day, Hazel Hushman, Agnes McKinstry, Katherine Harwood, Rosalind Schilling, Eleanor Wisner, Shirley Thurman, Katherine Gorath, Virginia Anderson, Helen Campbell, and the Messrs. Jack Green, Harley Melzian, George Eiler, Joe Koons, Charles Warner, Bill Fox, and Mr. and Mrs. Nealley.

Pavilion To Offer Five-Dollar Prize

Five dollars in gold will be the award presented to the person wearing the most original and amusing costume at the hard times' dance to be held one week from tomorrow night at the Orange County Dance Pavilion, on the highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim. Three judges have been selected to choose the winner.

Milton Foster and his band are to furnish the music for the affair to which every student of the college has been invited.

STUDENT TICKETS
Every student of the Santa Ana junior college should purchase an Associated Student ticket early in order that he may enjoy the many privileges of the Association immediately. Yes, you can purchase them on the installment plan.

GROUP PLANS TO CONSIDER MANY TOPICS

President George Griffith Believes Gatherings Are Beneficial

Executive Board Will Join In Group Discussions

With the idea in mind to promote the best interests of the college, presidents of every organization on the campus will meet with the Executive Board tomorrow night in the "Y" hut to discuss current student problems, George Griffith, president of the Associated Students, has announced.

On blanks sent out by Griffith, club presidents were requested to list their members and to make suggestions for discussion topics which would be of interest to all service clubs and of concern to the Associated Students as a whole.

This will be the second of a series of meetings being held every third Thursday. From indications of the results of the first gathering, it is believed by Griffith that sessions of this sort will prove beneficial.

Presidents to whom invitations have been sent include Miss Lorna Allen, W. A. A.; Miss Hazel Hushman, A. W. S.; Miss Elizabeth Rinker, Y. W. C. A.; Jac Crawford, Y. M. C. A.; Tom Cone, Bachelors; Jim Thompson, Junior Lions; Wilton Hillard, Los Gauchos; Miss Nelle Grafton, Spinsters; Miss Clare Hymer, Las Meninas; Miss Helen Campbell, Moavs; Miss Velma Bishop, Las Gitanas and French clubs; Clayton Kaps, German club; Ellwood Lindley, Spanish club; Harley Melzian, Alpha Rho Tau; Miss Martha Spaulding, Phi Rho Pi; Glover Hendrickson, Press club; Bob Brown, Beta Gamma; Miss Gladys Lloyd, Shea Shell Social; Miss Lorean Beard, O. K. club; Roy Wheeler, Longfellows; Miss Elizabeth Skiles, Tavern Tatlers; and Aldon Melzian, Engineers.

Dance At Orange County Pavilion Ends Club Party

Although Friday 13 was the date of the Press club's treasure hunt and dance, there were no speed tickets received by the "Pirates" in a 75-mile search for their treasure. Last year tickets doled out by hard-hearted and watchful motorcycle officers in Anaheim.

Ernestine Wakeham and Sigurd Magnusson found the treasure at the Orange county dance pavilion, where Clayton Kaps, social commissioner, had reserved loges for the club. The consolation treasure, awarded the car arriving last was spirited away in some strange fashion, according to Helen King. It rightfully belonged to Jean Huddle and Bill Howell.

Card tables were set up during the evening and refreshments of coffee, sandwiches, and chocolate cake were served by the Misses Virginia Bishop and Helen King.

Name Miss Parsons New Club Executive

Miss Marion Parsons, popular junior college student, was elected vice-president of Alpha Rho Tau, art club at a meeting held Monday. Miss Parsons succeeds Miss Maybelle Ball, whose outside obligations necessitated her resignation. In capacity as vice-president, Miss Parsons will act as head of the entertainment committees.

- 5—Offer unbiased, truthful and enterprising accounts of events on the campus thereby aiding in the promotion of such activities.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Why Don't We Have a Band?

What was that someone said? Oh, yes! "Only when man plays, is man truly man." Governed by the play impulse, man becomes a creator. He completes his existence by pursuing activities which neither subserve any necessity of nature nor fulfill any moral duty. It was the play spirit that induced the mood which animated Robert Browning when he wrote, "God's in His Heaven. All's Right with the World".

Now, music has been confirmed as one of our highest types of mental play; therefore it should be encouraged. Without it nobody possesses complete relaxation and enjoyment. Furthermore, it is an encourager for an appreciation of the fine arts.

Strange as it may seem, all of this prelude is leading up to the fact that we need a band here, a good one, too! Where are our college songs echoed by the lute notes of the coronets and the beats of the drum?

Where are the eager expectations and pride evoked by seeing the college colors carried around the field and accompanied by the songs of victory? Where are the pleasant beatings of feet that keep time with the band's music? We don't know, but we do know where they should be. Right out on every football field! No game is complete without music to create the complete play mood necessary for sincere enjoyment. Perhaps the other team has a band, but that only increases our chagrin, for we feel from the beginning of the game that we are deficient in that one respect not quite as good as our opponents.

There is a large number of organizations in college here; if everyone would cooperate in advocating and urging a band, the matter would be forcibly brought to the attention of those in authority.

Take Stock of Yourself

Mid-term examinations are over and for many students a choking disappointment has taken the place of a once fluttering hope. Some are floundering in discouragement, and are feeling that they are less favored than others by circumstances or ability, and they have about come to the "What Is the Use of" period of their careers.

Now is a good time to take stock of oneself. Ask: "Is my slump due to any fault of mine? Am I slipping because I lack opportunities, or because I fail to grasp them? Do I lack brains or application? How many evenings are taken up with social affairs, casual visits with friends, or just plain loafing? How much of my study time do I spend gazing at meaningless pages while my mind trails after enticing day dreams?"

A student who is willing to put himself through such a course of questioning doubtless will be able to place his finger on the weak spot, and will not be so apt to quit the field with the first bowling over, but will wipe the dust from his eyes and go at it again in earnest.

President Herbert Hoover was so poor in English, so the story goes, that he had to make several attempts before he received a passing grade. Stick-to-it-ive-ness, however, won out for him, and it is still in working order for the ambitious student.

Gordon Minter: "I've arranged so as not to be caught by any draught this summer."

Beth Collar: "What have you done?"

Gordon: "Planted onions and potatoes in alternate rows. The onions will make the potato's eyes water and so irrigate the soil."

Miss Dickson: "What is the title of the book you are looking for?"
Dante Siracusa: "I'm not quite sure, but I know it starts with 'The'."

He: "Don't you like my company?"
She: "Your company is all right; but it's you I don't care for."

OVER THE EDITOR'S DESK

BY PAUL WRIGHT

THAT FAMOUS SAYING, "For the Love of Heaven, Let's Raise the Devil," will go into effect here Wednesday and Thursday of next week, with three of the semester highlights listed on the college social calendar. Sponsored by the Junior Lions, a gigantic bonfire, similar to that staged by the organization last year, will be held Wednesday night, November 25. Since this will be a successful rally, it must be for some important event. Well it is! Santa Ana and Fullerton, two of the deadliest rivals in the Southern California junior college conference, wind up their 1931 football schedule here Thanksgiving Day. Then, on Thursday, as shades of darkness hover over the battlefield on which the Dons have outplayed the Yellowjackets, Santa Ana will act as host to Fullerton at a dance in Andrews gymnasium.

MISS MARJORIE ARUNDELL, social commissioner, has spared no efforts in planning for this dance. It will be a gala affair, one which every loyal Santa Ana should attend. Plan to be there.

DALE ROE, OF PASADENA junior college's Alpha Tau Epsilon, National journalistic honorary society, was a visitor on the Santa Ana campus this week and assured us that we are to have a chapter. The editor of the Pasadena Chronicle accompanied him. Application blanks, he said, will be sent here next week, at which time definite steps toward organizing the society will be made. Initiatory fees will be $6.50, and certain qualifications must be met for membership, according to Roe.

INCIDENTALLY, EL DON was the first college newspaper to pay its fee to Pasadena for membership in a new collegiate news service, arrangements for which are in the hands of Pasadena students.

CAMPUS CHUCKLES

They were sitting in the evening on a bench in the park. The air was soft with the balmy odors of springtime. He had been silent for some time. She cuddled up to him and said, "Sweetheart, tell me something soft and sweet."

"Custard pie," he replied.
"Give a glass of plain soda water without flavor."
"Without what flavor?"
"Without vanilla."
"You'll have to take it without chocolate. We ain't got any vanilla today."

Deacon Smith: "I know it's very premature, Widow, to speak to you of my love within an hour after your return from your late husband's funeral, but—"

Widow Jones (sobbing): "I'm very sorry, Deacon, but Brother Brown spoke to me at the grave. You're a little late, Deacon." (Horsefeathers.)

Bob deupree: "Does history repeat itself?"
Jeannette Hickman: "Yes, if you funk it."

THIS SYSTEM NOT BAD!

Pomona college has solved the letter writing problem for busy students. Below is the form which appeared on a postcard called "Pomona College Minute-Letter".

A check after each word desired, is all that is needed to convey even the most personal ideas. The directions found upon the card: "Use check mark to avoid writer's cramp and also to allow time for classes."

MIXED POPULATION IN UNITED STATES SHOWN

Just today we chanced to meet
Down upon the busy street,
And I wondered whence he came
What was once his nation's name.
So I asked him, "Tell me true,
Are you Pole or Russian Jew,
English, Irish, German, Prussian,
Belgian, Spanish, Swiss, Moravian,
Dutch, or Greek or Scandinavian?"
As he raised his head up high,
"What I was is naught to me
In this land of liberty;
In my soul, as man to man,
I am just American."

—Selected
Everyone in the United States excepting a few remaining Indians is either an immigrant or the descendant of an immigrant.

Perhaps some may trace their immigrant ancestors back to the landing of the Pilgrims or to only a century ago when the Germans helped settle the farms of the middle west or even to a much later date.

But whether a sturdy pioneer or a new made citizen, the pride of being an American is the same.
Today there are living in the United States approximately 15,000,000 people who were not born in this country. Germany, Italy, Russia, Poland, Canada, Great Britain, Ireland, Sweden, Austria, Mexico, Hungary and Norway furnish the largest number of foreign born who want to be known as Americans.

The United States has not always been the home of such a mixed people. In the first national census taken in 1790, 91 per cent of all the people were descended from English, Scotch or Irish. A century later, the census showed more than 40 nationalities.

In every generation in American history, it has been the immigrant who has done the hard, disagreeable tasks. In 1790, ninety per cent of the newcomers were farmers. In 1920 only thirty per cent became farmers.

Immigrants come for many reasons, better living conditions, freedom to think and worship and for a better education. Millions have come from the older countries to.

JUST LIKE A GIRL

Scene: Grandstand of football game.

Characters: One boy, one girl, 5,000 other spectators.

Boy: It's a nice day for a game.

Girl: Oh lookit the lovely mink coat.

Boy: There goes the kickoff.

She: Where did it go?

He: (mutter)

She: Oh! The boy says fourth down; does that mean that four men are down?

Boy: (Groan)

Girl: Isn't that blond, curly headed No. 6 goodlooking?

He: (Moan)

She: Why don't they tackle those players with the white shirts and golf pants?

Boy: Grrrrrrrrrr.

Girl: Why did No. 11 run back and then throw the ball away?

Doesn't he want the nice little ball?

There is a smothered shriek and the crowd looks the other way while the boy (who has gone completely utmay) strangles the girl with his bare hands and stuffs her under the seat. Then with a calm and beatific countenance he turns to watch the game.

THEATRE NEWS

There may be a panic or depression somewhere around the country, but as yet it hasn't reached the Orange Theatre. Each week the crowds increase to see the big two bit shows that this house is putting out. The coming week is typical, Great Garbo, Clark Gable, what a pair of able clinchers in one of the greatest human epochs ever written and produced "Susan Lennox her Rise and Fall" essentially an adult picture, showing Thurs.-Friday, and Saturday with a Tim McCoy western screened Saturday for the children.

Sunday comes the usual big line up of vaudeville de luxe with a top notch screen "Honeymoon Lane". Monday and Tuesday, a double feature program George Arliss in "Alexander Hamilton" and Bill Boyd in "The Big Gamble". Variety there sure enough. Wednesday for one day only the illustrious stage star Helen Hayes in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet" and on Thanksgiving Day another big Vaudeville Bill with a fast moving screen play "I Like Your Nerve" starring none other than Doug Fairbanks Jr. Thanksgiving Day show will be continuous and the prices will run 35 and 25. With the usual for the children, God bless 'em.

TEAM POINTED FOR FULLERTON COACH COOK FINDS NEW GUARD TO STRENGTHEN FORWARD WALL

Preparing to give the public a pleasing Thanksgiving dish, Coach Bill Cook, Don mentor, is pointing his rejuvenated football team towards the game with Coach Art Nunn and his swarm of buzzing hornets, which is to be played here Turkey day.

Coach Cook was more than pleased with the brand of football that David Maxwell showed when substituted at punning guard. Previous to this game he has played in the backfield, but Cook had an excess supply of backfield men, but was lacking in substitute linemen.

He now has available two strong sets of guards in Bartholomew and Luthe, and Maxwell and Rossiter. Bartholomew can also play center and be able to give able support in either position.

Gilbert Injured
Doyle Gilbert, who has been a pleasing development in Coach Cook's backfield, may be out for the rest of the season due to an injured left foot received during the game with Los Angeles. It is feared that he has suffered a broken bone, but an x-ray did not show to what extent the foot was hurt. He is on crutches and it is very doubtful whether or not he can recover in time to play against the "Hornets".

Siracusa, who has returned to his early season form, had the tissues around his cheek bones torn loose when his face hit the ground under barrage of Los Angeles tacklers. He will be unable to work in practice this week, but claims he will be the best of shape for the Thanksgiving day game.

Subs To Practice
Coach Cook plans to give many of the substitutes who have not seen much action, a chance to show their ability in this week's practice, and if an opportunity presents itself he will insert them in the game with Fullerton and see what they can do under fire.

Basketball Practice Slated For December First

Basketball practice will start December the first according to the announcement given out by Coach Bill Foote. He hopes that all students who have ever played the game or would be interested in trying out for the team to report on that date.

Don Johnson, running guard, on last year's team was selected captain of the Don team, but is continuing his studies at the University of Washington and will consequently not be out for the team.

Many of the prospective team candidates are playing on church teams and should be fairly well rounded in to condition by this time.

Women's Athletic Directors

El Don Cagers In 50-to-46 Victory

Winning by the narrow margin of four points the El Don staff basketball team defeated the highly touted Print Shop five in a pre-season grudge battle.

The game started out with the El Don team taking a sudden and marvelous lead. The first quarter ended with the Print Shop five on the small end of a 16 to 6 score. The last half saw the staff team descend to give the shop boys a chance and let them get within two points of them at half time.

The stars for the Print Shop team were Lee Hamilton and Ray Bromley who accounted for most of the type setters scores, while "Hot Shot" Wright, (usually wrong), scored most of the pencil pushing teams points. He was ably supported by Don business executive.

Donas Entertain L. B. Tennis Team In First Series

The first of a series of tennis teas was given Thursday afternoon, Santa Ana acting as hostess to women from L. B. J. C.

Five of the six matches were won by Santa Ana: first singles being defeated by a score 7-9, 6-1, 6-4. The Santa Ana team dressed in white and wearing for the first time the white W. A. A. tennis sweaters made a commendable impression on the spectators who had gathered to watch the play.

After the matches tea was served in the Y. W. C. A. hut, which was attractively decorated with a profusion of fall flowers. Candles and low fire gave a soft glow to the room. Adahruth Ellis and Eleanor Wisner graciously entertained with piano music.

The purpose of these teas is to give our women opportunity to become better acquainted with women in other J. C.'s. While play days do this to some extent the great number present make such friendliness as we hope for, impossible. Adahruth Ellis and Eleanor Wisner played popular music.

Committees in charge were: refreshment, Neva McDonald; advertisement, Betty Walker; decorations, Marian Samuelson; and entertainment, Adahruth Ellis and Eleanor Wisner.

Thurman's Sophs Held As Favorites

Continuing the basketball tournament, the four teams are fighting for a place in the final standing.

Thurman's sophomore team is conceded the best chance to win. This is a strong aggregation as they are all veterans.

Kiser's, Walker's, and Hasenjager's teams are fighting it out for the other places.

After this tournament is over, Coach Foote will chose the first and second freshman and the first and second sophomore teams. Then these four teams will play a tournament, ending the season with the annual play-day for all Southern California junior colleges.

ing the third quarter a lot of spectators in the grandstand thought that it was a foolish play. They didn't understand why he didn't catch it.

Well, here's the reason. It was fourth down and the Dons still had 5 yards to go, consequently it made no difference whether the Dons recovered the ball or not unless they made their yards, because the ball would go to the Cubs. Seacord was quick witted enough to see that the ball would not go the right direction so he leaped high in the air and batted in toward the Los Angeles goal line. LA Santa Ana player recovered it but it lack a yard of being a first down, therefore the Cubs gained possession of the ball. Nevertheless it was a smart piece of headwork on the part of Emmett.

Handball Tournament To Decide College Champs

All members of the college student body of faculty who would like to enter an open handball tournament to be sponsored by the El Don sport department.

Several members of the faculty have all ready signified their intentions to enter: among them are Mr. Hayden, Coach Bill Cook, and Coach Patton.

Students who wish to enter the tournament should leave a note on the bulletin board addressed to the sport editor of the El Don. No definite date has been set for the first match.

After the open tournament is finished the two best students will play a team of star faculty members.

Showing vast improvement in every department of the game, the Dons won their first league tussle here last Saturday, by defeating the cellar loving Los Angeles Cubs by a score of 14 to 7.

This is the last athletic contest to be played between the two schools due to the fact that the Dons have been moved to the Eastern division. Consequently the Padres have broken the long string of defeats that the Cubs have created in the last two years, in every field of sports.

Spectacular Game
The game was one of the most spectacular played on the local gridiron in recent season. From the time when Santa Ana kicked off the game was filled with thrilling and freak plays supplemented by numerous but interesting penalties.

Featured playing by the ends of both teams most of the wing skirting plays for both squads. Storey, right end for the Cubs, was a thorn in the Dons running attack from the beginning of the game to the last play. He stopped most of the end runs that were attempted around his wing or he ran them into the center of the line.

Higashi and Meisinger, Don wingmen, also proved a strong obstacle to run around as the Cub backfield men soon found out.

In the last two minutes of play the Dons had the ball on Los Angeles' two yard line, following a short pass from Higashi to Brooks who ran nine yards and was stopped just two yards short of the goal line.

The Dons were held to a stand still for four downs as the game ended, with the ball deep in the Cub's territory.

Jan put on their traveling togs and go to South Bend to play Notre Dame.

Substitutes and Heroes

Many people think that great players make a great team. That is true, but don't think that all great teams are made by great players, but there is probably just as much if not more credit due to the substitutes who are willing to practice week in and week out and still not get in a game. It is not the coaches fault or anyone for that matter, but the "subs" deserve a lot more credit than they ever get. It takes "guts" (pardon the slang) to go out each night and be knocked around in practice so that the first string will have practice, so the next time you see a long line of substitutes on the bench during the game remember that they have done just as much toward winning or playing the game as the man on the field. Remember only eleven men can play at a time and if a game is to be won it must be the best eleven.

JAYCEE GIVEN PARADE PRIZE

Handsome Plaque Awarded College Longfellows

Four-Seated Bicycle Gives Crowd Many Laughs

President Greenleaf Almost Steers Into Throng

With the art department scoring first and the Longfellows third, Santa Ana junior college was well represented in the annual county Armistice day parade here last week.

Choosing polo as their particular sport in the Olympic games motif, the Longfellows club, under the direction of President Charles Greenleaf, received several laughs from the crowd. The main attraction of the club's entry was a four-seated bicycle piloted by Greenleaf and propelled by Don Abblott, Chester Cook, and Albert Copeland.

Wooden Horses

Club members all rode bicycles and carried croquet mallets to represent polo sticks. The horse effect was gained by tying wooden horse-heads to the front and whisk brooms on the back of the wheels. Each rider had the name of a country on his back and each wore a derby.

Featuring the performance turned in by the four-seated contraption were the circles which it made in the street, Greenleaf almost running in to the crowd as he steered the vehicle from one side of the pavement to the other.

Members of the club who rode "polo ponies" were Art Jacques, Harry Clayton, Wayne Bartholomew, Oliver Huftenberg, Harold Spangler, Eldon Bragg, Ray Kohler, Paul Wright, Martin Bowman, Douglas McAdams, and the riders of the tandem.

A large plaque with the club's name engraved on it will be awarded the college Longfellows.

College Lettermen Will Dance Friday

Collegians from Santa Ana and surrounding towns will hold a dance Friday night beginning at 8 o'clock in the Casa Venida Ballroom on Atlantic and Main street, Compton.

Lettermen from the various colleges will be the special guests. Admission will be 60 cents per couple.

The first 12 men wearing their school letters will receive a gold football, and at 11 o'clock everyone will be given a miniature football. A silver trophy is to be presented to the most popular dancers.

Lettermen from Long Beach, Anaheim, Fullerton, Compton, Pasadena, Alhambra and Santa Ana are scheduled to be there.

Complimentary Letter Sent To Jaycee Commercial Department

Santa Ana junior college commercial department recently received a complimentary letter from Dr. Moriarity, head of the School of Merchandising at U. S. C. He is so pleased with the training offered in the merchandising course here that he is giving two full credits to students completing it.

The merchandising course was formed for the purpose of teaching young people what they should know in order to get prompt and fast advancement. The course's aim is to equip the student with the knowledge that is necessary for a manager of a business department to know.

Several Santa Ana merchants were interviewed in order to get their ideas on just what is expected of people intending on being managers. After summing up the different opinions, the commercial department now offers the junior college students a merchandising course that has the approval of the business men.

Until the present depression, the Santa Ana business men cooperated with the junior college by employing students every other week.

day, and Wednesday morning, and it is planned to have some one on guard at all times. Last year, club members were served refreshments by the Sisterhood of Spinners. Members of the women's service organization "refueled" the Lions on two occasions.

Next week's celebration, it was decided, will start at 7 p. m., with a caravan led by a truck carrying the football team through town. The caravan will arrive at the bonfire scene within 15 minutes, after which speeches by Coach Bill Cook, Captain Mike Santa Cruz, and Cub Thompson, Junior Lion president, will be given. There will be the annual Soph-Frosh pole rush, a sack rush, and a tug-of-war. James Quigley and Jack Stedman, yell leaders, will lead a student serpentine around the fire.

New J. C. Tatlers Furnish Program

Five new Tavern Tatlers furnished the program at the club's meeting last week in the junior college library. Original poems and essays were read.

Miss Goldie Peale presented a "Recipe for an English Theme"; Miss Celestia Straub read one of her poems; Elmer Kogler told his experiences traveling steamer; a humorous letter was contributed by Jack Green; and Glover Hendrickson entertained with a description. Informal discussion of recent books and various topics concluded the meeting.

Mrs. Robert Northcross invited the club to her home for the meeting December 8, and Miss Miriam Samuelson announced that her home would be available for the meeting after that.

Honorary members present were Mrs. Ruth McNeil; the Misses Elva Cook and Alice Myers, and Jack Bergen. Regular members were the Misses Dulcie Green, Carolyn Haughton, Elizabeth Skiles, Betty James, Celestia Straub, Goldie Peale, Jane Cunningham, Miriam Samuelson, and Messrs. Wilton Hilliard, Glover Hendrickson, Bernard Sharpley, Jack Green, Elmer Kogler, and Mrs. Northcross, adviser.

Steak Bake Held By Men's Service Club

Until ten o'clock tonight junior college students are welcomed at the public reception and educational demonstration of telephone equipment and products in the Southern California Telephone company's plant.

Free educational talking pictures will be presented at 7:30 and visitors will be privileged to see behind the scenes of telephone work.

The mechanical larynx, one of the newest inventions, is on display as well as many other interesting devices to efficient telephone operations.

A. W. S. Will Develop New Group Projects

Arrangements for activities during the ensuing months occupied officers and counsellors of the Associated Women Students at a recent meeting. No definite plans have been announced but the organization will develop some new and interesting ideas this year, according to Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women.

Other business brought before the club Monday included the initiation of Merrill Bower, who could not be present two weeks ago to take the Lion ritual, and the voting on the club constitution. After several articles had been changed, the constitution was accepted.

Marian Brooks has been appointed chairman of the Junior Lions' social committee. He will be assisted by Martin Bowman and Ray Glesner. Geneva Wicks, popular pianist, entertained the club Monday with several selections.

Playlet Features Last Moav Meeting

New members of the Moav club entertained old members at the home of Miss Katherine Chapman, 2032 North Main street, Monday evening.

As a special feature of the program, a playlet, "All on a Summer's Day", was presented by the Misses Edna Hall, Helen Wiesseman, Violet Johnson, and Ernestine Wakeham. The Misses Katherine Gorath, and Carolyn Mueller played a piano duet. This was followed by a piano solo by Miss Mueller.

To surprise Miss Chapman on her birthday, gifts were brought to the meeting and presented her. Refreshments consisted of ice cream, coffee and a birthday cake. Informal dancing and games concluded the evening.

Present were the Misses Helen Campbell, Elizabeth Riniker, Eleanor Wisner, Joanna Day, Dulcie Green, Edith Bailey, Lucile Crawford, Jane Cunningham, Virginia Anderson, Edna Hall, Violet Johnson, Carolyn Mueller, Katherine Gorath, Ernestine Wakeham, Helen Wiesseman, and Katherine Chapman.

Faculty Outlines Economy Programs

Believing a program of strict economy to be the best method for such a procedure, faculty members have outlined such a program.

Representatives from the whole school system have studied the subject with the viewpoint that a "penny saved is a penny earned," and in view of the fact that the college has no reserve, it seems essential to build up as much of a surplus as possible from the present year's allowance.

This year all teachers have an extra assignment which gives everyone more than a normal teaching load, and this is a heavy contribution on the part of teachers to the economy program. Such sacrifice appears quite necessary in view of present circumstances, and no extra teachers are being employed in spite of heavy enrollment.
